

TO ALL OF UKZN's NURSES

The UKSU Executive salutes all nurses at UKZN, especially those who are UKSU members.

Since the outset of the COVID pandemic in South Africa, nurses have indeed shown dedication in providing unconditional services and patience – they are true warriors.

Nurses give so much of themselves to others every day, whilst taking care of those during some of their most difficult days.

The pandemic has highlighted the nature of the work of all nurses, continually doing a selfless job to serve and care for others in need.

UKSU expresses its respect for your selfless dedication.
